Guidelines for Submitting or Writing Learning Objectives

Learning/Behavior Objectives:
- Learning objectives are clear and measurable by use of an action verb that describes a measurable behavior and/or specifies something that can be actively demonstrated as a result of attending the educational program.
- Learning objectives clearly describe what the learner will know or be able to do as a result of having attended an educational program or activity.

Examples of verbs that can be used to demonstrate how the educational course enhanced your knowledge:
  - Identify, list, define, analyze, assess, describe, locate, discuss, explain, perform, demonstrate, plan, create, compare.

Examples of verbs to avoid when writing learning objectives:
  - Know, understand, learn, appreciate.

The verb should correspond with what opportunities were given to “you” as the participant, in order to demonstrate the newly learned information.

Examples of learning objectives:
- Students will be able to identify the risk factors for coronary artery disease.
- The content of the course provided me with the skills to perform intravenous fluid therapy according to current standards of practice.

Ask yourself what did “I” accomplish/learn & how can “I” demonstrate what “I” have learned
