The Kansas State Board of Nursing would like to recognize the contributions that are being made by nurses at all levels during this unprecedented COVID-19 pandemic. The courage that each frontline nurse demonstrates daily is heroic, requiring conquering personal anxiety and fears to provide care to the most vulnerable patients. Those nurses in leadership roles are struggling to make informed decisions, generate plans for our communities when no rules, guidelines or even adequate supplies exist. Meanwhile, nurses and APRN’s continue to provide care for the non COVID illness and emergencies that do not stop just because our nation has a unprecedented infectious event. We applaud your “Can do” spirit, efforts to collaborate with the entire health care team and all State and local agencies that are working together to get Kansas and our nation through these unfathomable times.
KSBN Update

To help prevent the spread of COVID-19, the Board of Nursing and the Landon building was closed to the walk-in public at least through May 3. Like most state agencies and businesses, the majority of KSBN staff are teleworking to perform the functions of the agency. Due to our high utilization of technology and dedicated staff, functions of the agency continue. Some functions are interdependent with other entities, such as fingerprinting and NCLEX exams, and may not be business as usual.

KSBN continues to work collaboratively to seek solutions, streamline functions and identify any regulatory changes that can be made that will allow KSBN to work to support Kansas nurses. Given that many of our KSBN staff members are teleworking, the best way to contact them is via their email. You may find our direct agency contacts information listed under Staff Directory on our website. Please continue to follow our website and social media [Twitter and Facebook] and our COVID-19 Information Center for agency updates and frequently asked questions. For quicker responses, we strongly encourage you to do business with KSBN via our online services located on our website, mail or fax. KSBN staff are working diligently to continue to carry out the functions of the agency. We will re-evaluate teleworking practice when we are requested to and it is safe for staff to be back in the agency. Thank you for your support and patience during this difficult and uncertain time.

Reminders about Continuing Nursing Education

- If you have a multi-state license through your primary state of residence, you do not need to maintain a single-state license in Kansas. Your multi-state license allows you to practice in Kansas. You may let your single-state license lapse, so long as you maintain your multi-state license.
- Follow the CNE policy of the state in which you have your multi-state license. For example, if your multi-state license is through Kansas, you are required to obtain 30 hours of approved CNE before renewing your license. If your multi-state license is through Missouri, you would follow Missouri’s requirements even if you are working in Kansas.
- 30 hours of approved CNE for renewal of your Kansas single-state or Kansas multi-state license must be obtained within your current renewal period, which are the two years preceding your expiration date. Example: Your license expires 07/31/2020. 30 hours of approved CNE must be obtained between 08/01/2018 and 07/31/2020.
- All college credit must be submitted for approval through the Individual Offering Approval Form. 1 college hour = 15 CNE contact hours
- All CMEs must be submitted for approval through the Individual Offering Approval Form
- The Individual Offering Approval (IOA) is now submitted electronically. There are directions with this on our website. The electronic submission has streamlined the process for the nurse and agency staff.
- A list of Kansas providers for CNE, as well as a list of pre-approved National Credentialing Organizations for CNE are available on our website’s Education page, under Continuing Nursing Education.

Multi-state Licensure

The COVID-19 pandemic has caused fear among all of us. Nurses want to help in any way they can, whether in Kansas or in other states. We have received many requests during this pandemic to convert a single state license to a multi-state license. The process to do that conversion has not changed due to the pandemic. We must still verify the eleven uniform licensure requirements for every multi-state license we issue. This has not changed due to the pandemic. The eleven uniform licensure requirements include:

1. Meet the home state’s qualifications
2. Graduate from a qualifying education program (or graduated from a foreign program verified by independent credentials review agency)
3. Passed English proficiency exam, if graduate from a foreign nursing program
4. Pass the NCLEX exam (or state board test pool exam)
5. Have no active discipline on a license
6. Submit to state/federal fingerprint-based criminal background check
7. Not be currently enrolled in an alternative program
8. Self-disclose participation in an alternative program
9. Have no misdemeanors related to practice of nursing as determined by the state board of nursing on a case by case basis
10. Have a valid U.S. Social Security number
11. Have no prior state or federal felony convictions

If you have a multi-state nursing license from your state of residence you can practice nursing in all 34 states that are members of the Nurse Licensure Compact. Information and the application to convert your single state Kansas nursing license to a multi-state nursing license is available on our website. Please ensure you will be able to meet all the uniform licensure requirements before you submit an application for a multi-state license. There are no exceptions for the eleven uniform licensure requirements.

Janice Levina

Professionalism is a crucial part of the nursing role; this is due to its powerful effects on the quality of care that patients receive and on functioning of the unit as a whole. With the continued expansion of the nursing profession in scope and recognition, maintaining trust within each patient relationship is important in preserving a positive image, and can set a precedent for the level of trust that patients feel towards the healthcare industry. It is therefore highly important for nurses as individuals to always represent their profession in the best way possible. I believe that displaying personal accountability and engaging in ethical practice are two essential qualities of a nurse who is displaying professionalism in the workforce.

Professionalism can be embodied through many types of efforts and admirable activities, maintaining a trusting and respectful relationship with patients, and keeping their clinical knowledge updated in order to provide patients with the most reliable information available. These will all show that the nurse is a hardworking, dedicated member of their profession who sincerely cares about providing great care. Nurses that promote personal accountability is to ensure that nurses are meeting their own personal needs. By practicing self-care and being aware of their own well-being, nurses are better able to provide the best version of themselves on the unit. They would be better able to utilize their full energy towards their colleagues, patients, and betterment of their profession, and can therefore exhibit higher levels of professionalism through their actions.

Nurses must provide ethical care and display personal accountability in order to exhibit higher levels of professionalism in their practice. Remaining reliable for colleagues and patients creates a more trusting, efficient, and collaborative environment throughout the unit, and can have a huge influence on how the profession functions collectively. Awareness of biases and practicing care following ethical guidelines can help in ensuring that all patients are equally treated with respect and excellence. Although professionalism in nursing can be embodied through many types of efforts and admirable traits, I believe that having personal accountability and providing ethical care is essential for nurses in promoting themselves as professionals, and building up the nursing profession as a whole.
What Does Professionalism in Nursing Mean to You?

Katey Weishaar

Professionalism in nursing embodies many different meanings for me. This is not just something that you can learn from textbooks. It is a combination of the job training, what you learn from your peers, life experiences, and your own moral compass. A true representation of professionalism in nursing comes from the way you carry yourself, the amount of respect and compassion you give to others, and the way you provide the highest standard of care possible.

I have worked in the healthcare field for four years. During that time, I have had the pleasure of working with true professionals. These individuals, whom I now consider to be peers, have begun mentoring me to reach my true potential. They have taught me to rely on my own moral compass and life experiences to give respect and compassion to everyone I come in contact with.

My life experiences have encouraged me to become a professional in this career field. I have a six year old daughter whom has had medical issues since birth, and has endured multiple surgeries. During our time in the hospital, I had the pleasure of meeting nurses who were true professionals. These nurses were the kindest, most compassionate people I have ever met. Even though we were complete strangers to them, they were just as emotionally invested as I was. They showed us grace, compassion, and empathy. When I experienced that, I knew I had found my true calling in life. I hope I can one day return the favor to another young mother by being that kind of professional.

Professionalism in nursing encompasses the way you carry yourself, the respect and compassion you show to others, and the judgments you make. As a professional you should always strive to surpass all expectations that are set. If you only meet the standard, you have not only failed your patient but you have also failed yourself. To consider myself a professional, I will always go above and beyond what is required of me. The goal of a professional is to make a positive change in every person’s life that they are put in contact with.

As nurses in the healthcare field, we will come in contact with individuals on some of the worst days of their lives. By acting and conducting ourselves in the utmost compassionate and professional way, we can help ease the pain of not only patients, but their families as well. By providing the highest standard of care possible, we can truly become the best professionals that we were meant to be.
Savanna Carrasco

As an individual who is learning to practice nursing, I think that professionalism is an utmost need. When I think of professionalism, three important values come to mind. Those values are accountability, responsibility, and compassion. I know when it comes time to make decisions and take action to satisfy the needs of a patient, numerous values should come into play. As someone who is entering this profession, I believe these three values are significant.

Having accountability holds nurses to a higher standard of providing care. Accountability is showing up on time and being prepared to give the most effective care possible. Nurses show accountability when they show responsibility for their actions, making those actions answerable. Part of being accountable is always putting a patient’s needs first, which at times can be difficult. Occasionally, nurses will disagree with a physician’s plan of care regarding a patient, so advocating for a patient is necessary. Nurses need to advocate for a patient since they are the ones that are giving a patient one on one care around the clock.

Responsibility and accountability go hand in hand with each other. The difference between the two is that accountability cannot be shared, but responsibility can be. Nurses have many responsibilities, one of which is protecting a patient’s dignity. Having patience and empathy towards a patient will help protect their dignity. Communicating effectively is another big responsibility. Nurses need to make sure a patient understands what is going on with them and what their plan of care may be. On the legal side of responsibility, it is essential that nurses document everything they have done accurately and precisely. This especially includes when administering medications. Nurses have the responsibility of doing a medication check three times, to make sure they are following the six rights.

Lastly, having compassion is an essential need for nurses. They should have true compassion when caring for a patient. True compassion is being able to be empathetic and sympathetic while having the desire to alleviate a patient’s pain or suffering. Being compassionate helps a patient become comfortable with their nurses while they are emotionally and physically dealing with a stressful situation. Being compassionate helps with the effectiveness of communication between a patient and a patient’s family in any situation. Having that communication with a patient can help relieve their concerns and help them focus on getting well.

In conclusion, I know there is more to professionalism in nursing other than the three values I touched on, which are accountability, responsibility, and compassion. These three values are what stick out most to me as an individual who is learning to practice nursing. To me, these three values are what ensure the safety and well-being of a patient.

The COVID-19 crisis has impacted the Board of Nursing in many ways. The State of Kansas partners with State, County and Local law enforcement centers to perform the criminal background check, fingerprinting services for our applicants. Many of these centers closed their public access to professional licensing agencies due to the social distance requirements and lack of PPE for their staff performing the fingerprinting procedures. The Board of Nursing has worked promptly and diligently to secure locations that are willing to fingerprint our critical nursing applicants. The map designates counties that have agreed to fingerprint for Kansas nurses as of this publication. For the most up-to-date fingerprint locations, please visit our COVID-19 Information Center website at https://ksbn.kansas.gov/covid-19/. Please be sure to follow all instructions and bring any required information to each site. The Board of Nursing extends a big “THANK YOU” to all of the Sheriff Office’s in Kansas on our list, for providing this extremely important service for our nursing applicants!

Will CNE be required after NLC?

Beginning July 1, 2019, Kansas State Board of Nursing will join the Nurse Licensure Compact. As such, the KSBN staff will grant Multistate Licenses to those who apply and qualify for this. There are 11 Uniform Licensure Requirements that all licensees in any compact state must meet to secure a Multistate License.

Kansas, along with about half of the states in the United States, as well as half of the states in the Nurse Licensure Compact, require Continuing Nursing Education. This is a reminder that CNE is required for renewal for any nursing license (single state or multistate) issued by the Kansas State Board of Nursing. The current requirement of 30 hours of CNE will continue to be required for renewal.
CNE Guidelines for Advanced Practice Nurses

K.A.R. 60-11-113(b) reads “License renewal, on and after January 1, 2013, each individual renewing a license shall have completed the required 30 contact hours of approved continuing nursing education (CNE) related to the advanced practice role during the most recent prior license period. Proof of completion of 30 contact hours of approved CNE in the advanced practice role may be requested by the board.”

Guidelines for advanced practice nurses seeking continuing nursing education offerings:
- Compare the course learning objectives/outcomes for any course you are considering with the definition of Continuing Nursing Education: Continuing nursing education means a learning experience intended to build upon the educational and experiential bases of the advanced practice nurse for the enhancement of practice, education, administration, research or theory development to the end of improving the health of the public.
- Is the course designed to provide new knowledge or enhance current knowledge and/or skills in your advanced practice role, to assist you in improving the health of the public?
- Is the course designed to provide you with the skills and/or knowledge to provide innovative changes supported by research and theory within your advanced practice role, to assist you in improving the health of the public?
- Is the course designed to provide you with new and developing standards of practice within your advanced practice role, to assist you in improving the health of the public?
- Is the course designed to assist you within your role by advancing your clinical decision-making skills, to assist you in improving the health of the public?

If the course learning objectives meet the above criteria, then the offering is appropriate for advanced practice continuing nursing education.

Guidelines for approved CNE offerings:
K.S.A. 65-1119(b) “The board shall accept offerings as continuing nursing education presented by: colleges that are approved by a state or national department of education and providers approved by other state boards of nursing, the national league for nursing, the national federation of licensed practical nurses, the American nurse credentialing center, or other such national organizations as listed in the rules and regulations adopted by the board.”

PLEASE NOTE:
- All college courses must be submitted and approved by the Individual Offering Approval (IOA) process, prior to renewal of license
- CME’s are continuing medical education (not continuing nursing education) and must be submitted and approved by the Individual Offering Approval (IOA) process, prior to renewal of license
- If the CNE certificate of completion does not clearly indicate being approved for advanced practice nurses, you must submit the course learning objectives with the certificate for proof of advanced practice continuing nursing education, if audited or reinstating your license

Wall Certificates suitable for framing are available through the Kansas State Board of Nursing. Certificates are available to those RNs/LPNs/LVN/PMVs/CRNAs/NPs/CNSs/RNAs who hold a permanent Kansas license. To obtain a certificate, please complete the following form.
